PORTRAIT OF THE NATION

The Scottish National Portrait Gallery has now closed its doors so that work can start on Portrait of the Nation – our ambitious project to redefine the Gallery for the 21st century.

We invite you to support Portrait of the Nation by adopting one of the figures from Scotland's past represented on our beautiful processional frieze. This is a unique opportunity to TAKE YOUR PLACE IN HISTORY.

YOUR FRIEZE, YOUR GIFT, YOUR GALLERY

We are inspired by the vision and generosity of John Ritchie Findlay, our founder. And we hope that his exceptional act – gifting the Scottish National Portrait Gallery to the people of Scotland – will inspire today's benefactors to help us renew the Gallery, ensuring its future at the heart of the nation.

Portrait of the Nation has three main aims:

- to restore and reveal much more of Sir Robert Rowand Anderson's magnificent Arts and Crafts building
- to show many more works of art and display them better
- to create first class visitor services

Choose your character

Flora MacDonald, Jacobite Heroine

Mary, Queen of Scots

EAST WALL

From explorers to engineers, from soldiers to statesmen.

WEST WALL

From monarchs to missionaries, from patriots to patron saints.

The frieze includes 155 of the greatest men and women from Scottish history. By choosing one of the figures you will be supporting the Portrait of the Nation project and helping to transform and protect one of Scotland's greatest national assets.

We are seeking gifts of between £2,000 and £25,000 which can be made as a single donation or over a period of three years.

In recognition of your generosity, your name, or that of someone you wish to celebrate, will be displayed within the Scottish National Portrait Gallery when it re-opens in 2011. You will also receive a certificate and limited edition print of the frieze wall on which your character appears.

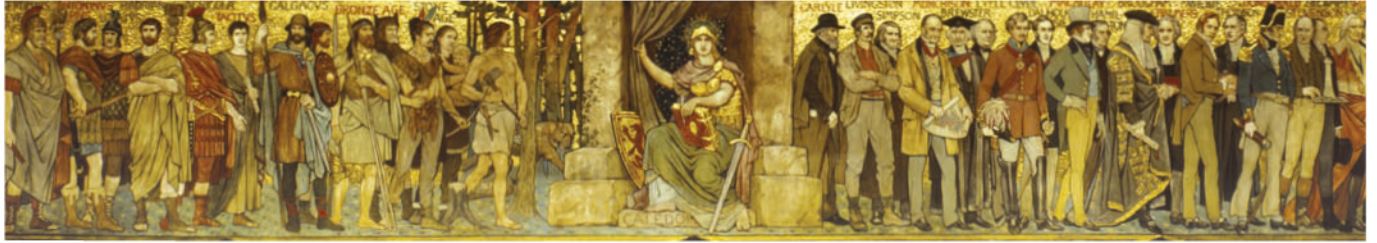

TAKE YOUR PLACE IN HISTORY and help us achieve our vision for the Gallery – a true Portrait of the Nation.

Adam Smith

Adam Smith, 1723 – 1790. Political economist Adam Smith is one of the most influential Scots ever to have lived. He is considered the father of the economic principle of free enterprise, one of the holy grails of modern capitalism. His best known work The Wealth of Nations describes how the individual pursuit of self-interest leads to greater common prosperity.

NORTH WALL

From emperors to economists, from physicians to philosophers.

SOUTH WALL

From royals to reformers, from martyrs to mathematicians.

In the Main Hall of the Gallery, below the first-floor balustrade, a processional frieze painted by the artist William Hole in 1898 provides a breathtaking introduction to Scottish history. It depicts many famous Scots, led by Thomas Carlyle who, as an outspoken supporter of portrait galleries as 'pantheons for heroes', inspired the creation of this Gallery.

The frieze was designed as a portrait gallery in miniature and includes such figures as David Livingstone, James Watt, Robert Burns, Adam Smith, David Hume, the Stuart monarchs, Robert the Bruce and Saint Columba.

David Livingstone

David Livingstone, 1813 – 1873. David Livingstone was one of the great missionaries and explorers of the 19th century. He was renowned for his dedicated fight against the slave trade, while his journeys across Africa and his discovery of the Victoria Falls made him a British national hero.
